Cuba's Communist Party has announced the creation of a new political structure in the Caribbean island, as part of reforms the country's leader Raul Castro announced last month. President Castro gave details of the proposal at a general meeting of the Communist Party's Central Committee on Saturday. He said: "The government proposes creating for the first time, a new entity, the Ministry of Production of Basic Industries, which will have authority over the production of some basic foodstuffs, clothes, shoes, construction materials and all the other products that the Cuban people needs." It will be in charge of making the necessary adjustments and "coordination" between the different sectors of the economy. Mr Castro said: "The goal is to create a system that optimally promotes the production of essential products, to strengthen the Cuban people's confidence in the capacity to generate their own means of production, and to respond to needs of the populace," Mr Castro also announced a number of economic reforms including setting up a cabinet-level committee to study the role of the state in the economy. He said: "The state sector must reconsider its entire structure so that it can direct all its efforts to the goal of the production of adequate means of production for the people. "The existing system must be thoroughly analysed and submitted to the public opinion for a debate and discussion on the necessary adjustments for a new reality." System Requirements For Fifa 22:

PC Requirements: Some of you might have already noticed some of the not so lovely reviews of the PC version of the game. There are some serious compatibility issues (and I'm not talking about in the sense of inability to play). I just got a brand new PC and I can assure you that the PC version is fine. There are issues with sound, graphics and resolution. Only the resolution can be fixed by patching the game (the other two aren't really there). I have no sound and only have a small portion of the textures but the game is fully playable and
